

Resurrection Catholic Parish

Becoming Disciples of Jesus and Stewards of God's Gifts

Fifth Sunday of Easter
May 17 & 18, 2025

*I give you a new commandment: love one another.
As I have loved you, so you also should love one another.
This is how all will know that you are my disciples,
if you have love for one another."*

John 13:34-35

A New Heaven and a New Earth

Hopefully, we all have hopes and dreams for a future filled with love, peace and a just world for all. What would that look like? Who would be responsible for putting flesh and blood onto this dream? As in the choosing of a new pope, the Holy Spirit is ultimately responsible. Yet we are called to listen to that Spirit and be guided in our words and actions.

Our short gospel this weekend follows right after the moment of Judas betraying Jesus. The Good News of the gospel does not end in betrayal but in the words of love. The new commandment is given: love one another. "As I have loved you, so you also should love one another." This has always been a guiding wisdom for me throughout my life and my priesthood. I have been grateful for the love and grace of God in my life. I have betrayed and failed many times and yet I have been forgiven once again and new life has flowed through a challenging situation. How can I not then hold out that same love and mercy to those I meet on my journey?

My time here at Resurrection has offered me many opportunities for this dynamic to play out daily. We have embraced radical hospitality to strangers and enemies. We pray and study as we open our lives to the outreach to the poor and marginalized. I am convinced that we have largely modeled the great commandment to love one another. As difficult as it was for Judas to remain faithful to what Jesus taught, we have courageously struggled to stay in line with the unconditional love that we are called to be in every situation we encounter.

Thank you all for guiding our parish to a deeper understanding of God's love and mercy. I have grown in spiritual maturity as we have grown together toward a new heaven and a new earth.

Easter Blessings,
Fr. Tom

Living as Pilgrims of Hope

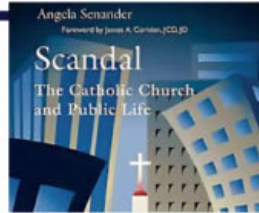

Tuesday, May 20

This Jubilee Year Pope Francis invited us to live as pilgrims of hope. To better understand the ministry of Pope Francis and his call to be pilgrims of hope, we will discuss [Beyond] Scandal: The Catholic Church and Public Life published months before Pope Francis was elected pope. As we remember Pope Francis and look forward in hope with our new pope, we will reflect on the ways we are called to live as pilgrims of hope in our world today.
