Becoming Disciples of Jesus and Stewards of God's Gifts

Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ
June 18 & 19, 2022

“Be what you see, and receive what you are.”

This is a quote from a homily St. Augustine gave to those who were to receive communion for the first time. He went further: “you ought to know that what you will receive, what you ought to receive daily, the bread that you see upon the altar which has been sanctified by the word of God, is the body of Christ. The cup, sanctified by the word of God, is the blood of Christ. By these, the bread and wine, Christ wanted to entrust us with his body and blood which he shed for the forgiveness of our sins. If you receive this well, you are what you receive.”

Augustine is reminding us to ‘have ourselves in mind’ as we reach out our hands to receive the very presence of Jesus. This presence is the heart and soul of our faith. We are challenged to open ourselves to the mystery that this ‘Body of Christ’ may be our body and soul. This is the radical nature of being in communion with our God. We pray that the simple bread and wine on the altar might become for us the very Body and Blood of Jesus. Yet often we forget that at the Last Supper, Jesus handed his very body and blood, his very ministry of healing and reconciliation, to his disciples. We are meant to be as Christ in our world today.

So each time we reach out our hands to receive the Body, and some day the Blood, of Jesus, we are reaching out to the mystery of how we are to be transformed into the very presence of Jesus in our world today. Believing in the ‘real presence’ of Jesus is our calling to believe in the real presence of Jesus we encounter in every person and situation we meet in life.

“Be what you see, and receive what you are.”

Blessings,
Fr. Tom

Gauging the Spiritual Health and Well-being of Our Community

Research supports the direct relationship between life satisfaction and spiritual well-being.

Whatsoever You Do, Inc., in collaboration with Resurrection Parish and St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish, has launched an initiative to study this dimension in Northeast Wisconsin, engaging people in conversation around spiritual health and wellness.

We ask that you participate in a three-minute survey. There is an optional fifteen-minute survey afterwards. An in-person focus group will follow at the Whatsoever You Do House of Hospitality for those who opt in.

Resurrection Parish will also sponsor conversations on the topics of spiritual health, as it links to the Pope's call for synod conversations, later in June and July. More information will follow about those opportunities.
